Part-Time Teaching

We occasionally have need for part-time teachers for undergraduate and graduate courses.

If you are interested in teaching any of these courses then submit a letter indicating your interest and those content areas within which you feel meet your expertise. Expertise is generally evidenced by doctoral training in psychology relevant to the identified courses, publications in peer-reviewed scientific journals relevant to the content areas, and previous teaching experience. Previous teaching experience should be documented with copies of course syllabi, teaching ratings, and references to persons familiar with your teaching.

These materials should be sent to:
